Financial Legislation

Has consumed much of the time of Congress for the past two weeks, but has made little progress. Mr. Beck is the author of a bill which has had the attention of the Committee on Ways and Means, and was to have come before the House yesterday, fixing $400,000,000 as the amount of legal tender circulation, and guarding against the policy of inflation or contracting the volume of currency at will. This bill will open the grand battle between the West and South upon the one side and the East upon the other, upon the currency question, the East demands contraction, and the West, the South and the central States demand expansion—more money to move the crops, develop resources and place the great interests of the country beyond the control of Wall Street. Whether the lack of currency circulation or the unequal distribution of currency, the South and West have and do stand in need of more money. We appreciate the ridiculousness of a country newspaper's attempting to discuss the complicated boisterousness of finance, but the idea of an equal division of the circulating medium or an inflation that will give to the Western country a little more money, tickles our laughing apparatus. At any rate we shall watch with great interest the war between the Western army, with Senator Wright from Iowa in front, and the gold worshippers of the favored East. In the distribution of the currency the Eastern and New England States were given about three dollars to every one given the West, and the whole financial policy of the country favors the Eastern money-hawks and bond-holders, to the ruin of the West. Let the war be short and decisive, and the West become dictator. Westward, the star of Empire, etc.

It is given out that the Committee on Banking and Currency have agreed upon the following principles, which will be embodied in a bill and reported to the House as soon as some minor details can be arranged:

First—Not to disturb injuriously the present national banking system.

Second—Not to interfere with the present circulation of the national banks.

Third—That the present law, requiring of national banks located in the country to keep on hand a reserve of 15 per cent, and the city banks a reserve of 25 per cent, shall be entirely abrogated, thus allowing all the reserve to go into circulation.

Fourth—To require these banks to keep the reserve now required by law upon deposits.

Fifth—Free banking upon the same general system as at present, or with a ratio of $100 in currency for every $100 of Government bonds deposited in the United States Treasury.

Sixth—To require of these banks a deposit at the United States Treasury of 5 per cent of their circulation in legal tender for the purpose of redemption, to be constantly maintained there.

Seventh—To prohibit national banks from paying interest on deposits. It will be speedily introduced into the House, and will make broad and exciting issue between the creditor and debtor States and interests, as now represented in Congress. The New England States in Congress are generally expected to oppose it, and the South and West to favor the measure.

It is enough to make a mountain man lose his equilibrium to see the evident partiality of our law-makers in the matter of public improvements. A bill appropriating the considerable sum of $4,000 for the removal of obstructions in Rockcastle river, so as to enable the people of Jackson and Rockcastle to get their coal and lumber to the point where the Knoxville Branch crosses the river, called for a prolonged debate in the Senate last Saturday, but eventually passed. If these obstructions existed in the great bluegrass region, the needed assistance would be forthcoming without a dissenting voice.

SOMEBODY kicked up a dust in the lower House of Congress the other day by a resolution which was offered requesting the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the body what members held stock in National Banks. Before attempting to divest these institutions of some of their special privileges it was thought wise to see who were interested in them.

CONGRESS is expected to bleed to the tune of not less than five million for the Centennial Exposition. The lobbying for this grand national humbug and swindle is said to be growing quite extensive, and no means will be spared to wring from the Treasury a round sum to further the cheat. Retrenchment's the word!

From March 25th, 1867 to Dec. 31st, 1872, there were 58,618 petitions filed in bankruptcy, and 38,747 discharges granted. The number of cases pending Jan. 1st, 1874, was 15,421. The total expenses for fees of assignees, clerks, marshals, registrars, etc. of this department was $4,821,784,000.

AN exchange proposes this ticket for the next Presidential contest: For President, Allen G. Thurman, of Ohio; Vice President, John C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky. We know a few voters around here who could swallow that ticket without condiments.

The American Sentinel is to be again tested on the subject of San Domingo Association.

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE.

By the new apportionment nearly completed, several members will be added to the House, and probably one or two to the Senate.

Senate Judiciary Committee, by almost a unanimous vote, asked to be discharged from further consideration of the Kentucky University question, and it is settled that the numerous petitioners have no rights that this model committee cares to protect.

Last Tuesday was a field day in the Assembly; a number of bills were reported and passed, among them: Mr. Beckham's Geological Survey bill in the House; the Senate resolution to extend the session to the 23d proximo, in the House, etc. The Survey bill appropriates $15,000 per annum, for two years, for the completion of the geological, mineralogical and botanical surveys now in progress.

On Monday a joint resolution was submitted and adopted by the Senate providing for the appointment of a Committee to ascertain and report what public bills were before the Legislature, which ought to be acted upon first. Ha! ha! A happy thought. This consideration will relieve the over-worked and poorly-paid (see Whilkens Anderson, of the C-J), of the toilsome task of keeping the General Assembly advised as to what measures are of "General importance." Slaves, we deliberately chalk you one.

That everlasting Immigration Bill, which has cut such a figure in the Legislature for the past few terms, was killed as dead as a pickled mackerel in the House last Saturday upon the question of the third reading. If the press of the State will now proceed to give less than half the attention to "writing up" the advantages of Kentucky—her resources, schools, social excellence, healthy climate and economical government, as it has devoted to the effort to brow beat the Legislature into enacting a costly bureau of immigration and a waste of money on salaried agents and managers, the country will very soon be flooded with raw sons of Erin and blue-nosed sour-krouts.

The Senate, after a spirited debate, on Saturday, voted an appropriation of $1,000 to Hon. George R. McKee for services in collecting the Kentucky War Claims. Considering the fact that the Government had positively refused to pay these claims and but for the assistance of Judge McKee Kentucky might never have gotten a cent of the debt amounting to five millions of dollars, the compensation allowed him was not creditable to the Senate. Judge McKee contracted with the State to collect the claims within sixty days for a commission, which, had he succeeded, would have amounted to over $100,000. Though the labor of Judge McKee was finally approved, and though the sum of $55,000 has been paid to other attorneys in the case, Mr. McKee is made the inconsiderable allowance of $1,000. It is a shame.

The bill providing for the registration of marriages, births and deaths throughout the State has passed both branches of the Legislature and now only needs the endorsement of the Governor to become a law. Under this law, which all men have but to understand to approve, an official record is kept in the State of the most important events of our lives, rendering it comparatively easy to trace genealogy if a foreign legacy were at stake; enable the medical fraternity to collect vital statistics and combat diseases more successfully; point out portions of the State which are notably healthy or unhealthy; show the prevailing diseases and their relative fatality; the rise and progress of epidemics and the best means of averting them; present a reliable indication as to the increase of population, or otherwise, etc. It will also prove invaluable to the local of this paper in prosecuting his "disreputable" reprobators in the "New Comer" line.

We have no words of censure or praise for the General Assembly in the matter of extending the present session until February 23d. An adjournment on the 29th, would have sent the members home with the brand of cowardice upon their phizzes. It appears that there are forty-nine House bills, and one hundred and thirty Senate bills, which have passed one or the other branch of the Legislature, and are yet to be acted on by the other; and including these there are over four hundred bills in the hands of committees and ready for action. It is much more difficult to expedite business in a Legislative body than many "knowing ones" suppose, and that the Legislature has been in session sixty days (holidays excepted), without turning out several hundred finished jobs, is a matter of very great surprise to many. But it should be borne in mind, that a few experienced workmen only are in the present assembly, and to expect rapid and good work from apprentices is a little unreasonable. While very few measures of general importance have been passed upon finally, the work is well up, and by diligent labor from now until the 23d proximo, many matters of more or less importance, such as the equalization of assessment; improvement of the school laws; apportionment of Representatives and Senators; geological survey, etc. can and doubtless will be considered and passed upon. We think the assembly did right in extending the session and thereby avoiding an adjourned session, which was evidently desired by the Republican members, and if the work is prosecuted in a business like way, no sensible man will heed the nonsensical murmurs of constitutional grumblers, and yelps of moon-struck cure—and what if they do? Let them now discharge their duty.

conscientiously—insensible alike to praise or censure—fearless of what croakers may say. We regard the present Assembly as incorruptible, economical earnest in their efforts to promote the best interests of the State. The Democratic members of the assembly stand pledged to adjourn the body on the 23d proximo. The session will then be the shortest held for the past eight years, and the first Legislature that did not hold an adjourned session for many years.

Tuocon the celebrated civil rights bill gently snoots in the Judiciary manager for the present, the black-and-tan leaders do not propose to let it dream itself out of the minds of the faithful. Two saddle-skirts propose to treat the sensitive orifices of decent Congressmen with aromatic eau de skunk juice to-day. The bill may possibly be reported minus the school feature—at least the school feature will be deferred for a second dose. Let the issue come. It must eventually be narrowed down to white supremacy or negro rule! First political equality, next social equality—equality in hotels, churches, and schools. The real issue must come, and why smother it. Let us see whether the Republican Caucasians of the West can swallow the delectable pill that's being prepared for them by Elliot, Hoar, Beasty & Co.

The physicians of Boston, New York and Philadelphia have combined to expose the bodies of the Simms twins, at any price, for autopsy. The friends of the twins refused to allow a post mortem examination and the world must remain in ignorance of the matter of their connection.

We greatly admire the extraordinarily good behavior of the radical portion of Kentucky General Assembly of the present session. We are bound to admit that it is good for a few of them to be to look after and exercise a restraining influence over the naughty partisans of the Bourbon species.

THEY are already stripping for the fray in Tennessee. Candidates for Governor are multiplying with great rapidity. The Democracy want and are eager for a straight out fight, and will tolerate no alliances or other suicidal 'possum policy.

HERE'S a specimen of Chief Justice Waite's writing. On resigning the Presidency of the Ohio constitutional convention, and taking leave of members, among other things he said: "When we first met, few of you knew me personally, and I knew personally but few of you."

The Congressional committee on Finance have agreed to embrace in their bill a provision requiring the monthly issue, after July 1st 1874, of two millions of notes payable in gold two years after date, and the retirement of the same amount of greenbacks in their stead.

THE Northern ice companies are beginning to feel alarmed about the failure of the ice crop. The thickest ice upon the Hudson has been three inches, instead of ten, as usual.

The Rush to Kansas and Colorado.

The indications are that the rush to Kansas and Colorado will be greater than ever in 1874. The shortest way to reach the far West is through St. Louis, the great Mississippi Valley City, of 450,000 inhabitants and thence over the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Short Line, which reaches all the great land grants in the West, and runs six Express trains two more than any other route, between the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers. This road, in the last two years, has expended over two million dollars, besides earnings, in extraordinary improvements of roadway, in relaying its line with the best quality of new steel and iron rails, on broad new ties, and in passenger equipments, having substituted for ordinary cars new reclining chair coaches, with every appliance for comfort and safety, being elegantly carpeted and fitted with dressing rooms, with toilet conveniences for ladies, gentlemen and families traveling with children, free of any extra charge. Any ticket agent selling through tickets to the West will furnish tickets by this excellent route through St. Louis, over the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Short Line, the best and shortest to Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, California and the great West, it being the only line running through cars between St. Louis and Omaha. For map, circulars and time tables address J. F. McCarthy, Cincinnati, O., or P. R. Great St. Louis, Mo., either of whom will furnish any information desired.

Cincinnati Southern.

The Trustees of the Southern railroad commenced opening the bids for grading, tunneling and bridging the Southern railroad from Shelby City to Cincinnati on the 26th. There were over three hundred bidders. The result will not be announced for two weeks. The Railroad Committee advise the trustees to make favorable terms for the use of the New port bridge instead of building a new one, and the Chamber of Commerce endorsed the advice of the Committee. Among the parties of this section, whose bids have been opened, are: Young & Green, Shelby City; McCarty & Bro., Stanford; T. M. Pennington & Co., Somerset.

HONE JOTTINGS.

Wanted, by the voters of Lincoln county, a candidate for Coroner!

How will Lincoln county get along without a sheriff after next August?

A splendid chance to buy a good little farm. Read Freely Peacock's advertisement in our hand department.

Parties desiring to insure their property from fire will please remember that F. J. Campbell is still agent for the Royal. Gold capital $14,000,000.

Our jolly gentlemanly friend Fennell of the firm of Wheat & Chaney of Louisville, was in town taking orders last week. John had several new and good ones to tell.

The scarcity of dwellings in Stanford compelled one of our best mechanics John R. Higgins, to remove to the country last week. He card appears in another column.

A few of our thoughtful citizens have seen proper to plant shade trees in front of their homes on our streets, and the practice of hitching animals to them should be discontinued if it has to be done by a town ordinance.

We now have seventeen candidates for county offices. To-day we announce Mr. J. B. Carpenter for Assessor, who has a large number of friends in the different sections of the county, and would make an active, energetic officer.

We are informed that the Turnersville High School, in our county, is in a very prosperous condition. The school is well attended, and the progress of the scholars is excellent.

In the unfortunate affray which took place at Liberty last Monday, an account of which will be found elsewhere, our estimable fellow-townsmen, R. Blain, fell in the action. He picked himself up however, with a whole hide and unperforated pericranium.

Read the important notice of Geo. F. Wood & Co., in our advertising columns this week. We say of our own knowledge they are offering their Stock of Boots and Shoes at unusually low prices. You cannot fail to serve your interest by dealing with them.

Mr. L. R. Yates exchanged his hotel on corner of Main and Somerset Streets to Messrs. E. and H. Fennell for their two dwelling houses and lots, receiving $500 boot. The two dwellings are worth fully $500. A few more such trades and Lee may retire from active business on a comfortable competency.

One of the great needs of Stanford and our sister town Somerset is a turnpike road. In building the Cincinnati Southern, it will be almost impossible to get along without a turnpike. We hope some of the enterprising citizens of both places will take hold of the matter and put it through at once.

The sight of a brand new two dollar bill has a wonderfully rejuvenating effect upon us at all times; but when in connection with one of these necessary lubricants, we saw the official signature of our beloved friend R. E. Huffman, of Radcliff, Montana, it set us all aglow with delight. How are you Dick? "Roy's wife etc. etc."

The Mountain Echo, of Harbourside, has an intelligent correspondent at Crab Orchard. He made two slight mistakes in his last letter, however. Crab Orchard is in the West End of Lincoln, and the hotel is not "conducted upon the European plan," as he writes. To Crab Orchard hotels for not only a good meal, but the downiest of beds.

If any of our citizens will take a walk down Main Street, they will see that the oldest church building in our town greatly needs repairs. The fence is gone from the front and sides. The front elevation is demolished and the steeple in a tottering condition. Why is it that our houses of worship are thus allowed to go to decay, while the grog-shops and the courthouses receive all needed repairs? Surely there is a screw loose somewhere.

Mr. "Ephraim Prindle" better known at Harbourside as Nathan Woodcock, was in town a few days ago, representing the well-known firm of R. M. Bishop. Eph. is a handsome fellow—he doesn't know it—and doesn't pretend to sell a plum-colored coat (a Cincinnati Israelite—but wears it isn't true that he took refuge behind the dash of his buggy when Bill brought a masked battery to bear on him in front at his Livery stable.

As a matter of courtesy we have, in one or two instances, departed from our rule in reference to announcing candidates, and have inserted on promise to pay in a day or two, several announcements. If the promises of our friends are not coupled with immediately we shall have to omit their notices. We'd as soon trust to the tongue of a diminutive humming bird for a breakfast as to hope to get a five dollar bill out of a defeated candidate.

Mrs. Sallie Trueheart, Principal of the Stanford Female College, received a telegram from Virginia a few days ago bearing the painful intelligence that her mother was very ill and not expected to live. She left on the next train for Virginia with the hope of being present at the death of her mother, but she had reached Louisville another telegram was received announcing her death. Mrs. Trueheart has the sincere sympathy of a grateful community in her sad bereavement.

The Hustonville correspondent of the Advertiser wants to know why, in the vicinity of Hustonville, on the 31st ult., ice formed on the streams four inches thick while Stanford had none?

"The cherishing first that in our entrails glow."—Addison.

"We are clad in a gown that glows with Tyrian rays."—Dryden.

"The arid breezes from fair Southlands, come" (via Cin., Southern).—Campbell.

We are often asked why we do not offer premiums for subscribers and thereby extend our circulation. This week we print just fifteen hundred copies. We have not found it necessary to deceive our patrons with counterfeit chromos and six-pence magazines to secure this patronage. Such a course is contrary to our ideas of honesty. We prefer to spend the money required to purchase pictures, etc. in improving and making our paper worth the price asked. We offer for the special accommodation of agents reduced rates in clubs, but it goes against the grain to do even that. If we reduce the price of the JOURNAL to one dollar, we will of course furnish a dollar paper. We go upon the governing principle of supply and demand, i. e. you demand and we supply. If you want cheap pictures there's lots of Yankees down East who will supply them. We keep a newspaper to sell. We sell the JOURNAL at $2 cash—take or leave it. Which?

If you want to sell your Bacon, Lard, Meal, Flour, Butter, Eggs, Irish Potatoes or anything in the way of Country Produce, for the highest price, and where you can buy the cheapest Groceries, Boots, Shoes, etc., take them to FERRIGO & DUDDEAR.

PULASKI COLUMN.

Edited by Will. C. Cud.

SOMERSET, Ky., Jan. 28, 1874.

SUMMARY OF TOWN NEWS.

The Railroad Commissioners left our town this morning, to condemn the right of way on the South side of the Cumberland river and on the Whitley county line.

W. McKee Fox and Maj. Wallace, returned to Somerset last evening from Whitley county.

Capt. W. A. Collier, is now engaged removing his goods to the large and commodious business house belonging to W. C. Davis, which has recently been put in excellent repair. Call and see the Captain one door below his old stand on Main street. You will always find him to be the same clever and accommodating merchant.

The Gem Comedy Troupe left our town this morning for the enterprising town of Monticello, and a number of our young gentlemen are already exclaiming, "Oh! how wearily, how wearily drags life smoothed by the captivating smiles of the lovely 'Gems'."

We learn that the young Gent. of Somerset propose giving a grand "Ball" at our new court-house hall on the 23d of next month.

"ANOTHER GEM."

Another Gem was added to the Gem Comedy troupe on Friday evening last, during the play of "Fanchon the Cricket," and for one evening only, in the form of a young gentleman who travels in our section of the State for a certain wholesale house of Louisville, and the disguise not being complete his first appearance on the stage called forth the exclamation from one of the ladies of the audience, "Oh! me, it that ain't Mr. F—?" His part was pantomime and that of an old gentleman, however, he danced beautifully, and gracefully, and of course the ladies say he is certainly a "gem"—a rare, fine-elegant jewel on the stage.

COUNTY COURT.

Our County court was in session several days last week.

Judge W. H. Pettus, John M. Barnett and C. W. Richardson, were appointed commissioners to condemn the right of way for the C. & S. R. R. through our county, who have entered upon their duties.

Thomas Ballou tendered his resignation as sheriff of Pulaski county, which was received and Samuel Tate appointed to fill the vacancy, who immediately executed bond according to law, and entered upon the discharge of his duties as sheriff of our county.

The County Judge and Attorney, moved the court for an allowance in addition to the $200 cash, heretofore allowed them, for services rendered from the 3d Monday in October 1872, up to 3d Monday in October 1873, which motion was rejected, to which the Judge and Attorney excepted and prayed an Appeal to the Circuit Court.

RELIGIOUS.

Whereas, Rev. H. J. Perry, our presiding Elder, has labored faithfully among us for the past four years, and whereas Somerset Circuit has prospered under his superintendence. And whereas he has remained the full disciplinary term. Therefore be it

1. Resolved, By the Quarterly conference of Somerset Circuit M. E. Church. That we tender him our heartfelt thanks for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, as presiding Elder and his efficient labors as a faithful Minister of the Gospel of Christ, and pray that he may be spared long to our church and conference.

2. Resolved, That we will gladly welcome him as presiding Elder again whenever the authorities of our church may return him.

Resolved, Further that a copy of these resolutions be furnished for publication, to the Western Christian Advocate, and INTERIOR JOURNAL, and a copy given to Brother Perry.

JEREMIAH GOODWIN.

H. G. TRIMBLE.

TODAY'S ITEMS.

Pherigo & Duddar sell Groceries as cheap as any house in town.

Clover, Timothy, Orchard and Blue Grass seeds at low prices for cash only.

GEO. D. WEAREN.

Geo. D. Wearen is still selling good New Orleans Sugar at 10c per pound, White Coffee Sugar at 12c per gallon, and Best Coal Oil at 25 cents per gallon, and Silver Drip Syrup at 75 cent per gallon.

The largest and finest monument in the Stanford cemetery is the one recently erected to the memory of the late Joseph McAllister, deceased, by Messrs. POOT & CLARK, (not Pool & Son) Marble Dealers of Louisville, Ky. The above firm has executed some of the finest monumental work of this and adjoining counties, and their prices have been reduced to correspond with the times, and as they guarantee perfect satisfaction in their work, all parties wishing work in their line will do well to give them a call before purchasing elsewhere. Mr. B. F. Pherigo, of Crab Orchard, is at present representing this house for the county of Lincoln, and all orders left with him will receive prompt attention.

We have repeatedly called the attention of our readers to the firm of Otter & Bro., Louisville, Ky., because we knew that we were subserving their interests in making mention of a house which deals so liberally with its patrons. Messrs. Otter & Bro. have now been engaged two years in manufacturing and wholesaling dealers in Stoves, Castings, Plain Stamped and Japanned Tinware, and as an evidence of their liberal dealing and satisfaction to their customers they have built up a very large and rapidly increasing trade and drawing it from old, established houses of experience. They handle and deal in the very best material. Our friend, A. T. Cud, who has been connected with this house since it first commenced business has severed his connection with the firm, and is now engaged with A. B. Burnam & Co., of Louisville, Ky. Mr. Frank Brinkley, of Pulaski county, has taken Mr. Cud's place with Messrs. Otter & Bro. and will in the future represent the trade of this portion of the State, being fully authorized to make settlement of all accounts and transact every character of business carried on by the firm. Our merchants cannot fail to advance their interests by dealing with this house. Brinkley will call to see you. Ten. Hold yours for him.

Disinterested.

We stated in our last issue, that there were some suspicions to the effect that Mike Rodgers, the man who was found dead last week, had been murdered. Hence, a number of his neighbors concluded to disinter his remains and make a careful examination thereof, our County Judge, thereupon ordered a physician to accompany several gentlemen, who had lived in the vicinity, and be present at the disinterment and examination of the body. After the body was again exposed, no marks of violence were found, and hence the Coroner's inquest was decided to be entirely satisfactory. The negro man who was last seen with poor Mike, has thus been freed from all complicity in the matter. We learn that the negro man aforesaid earnestly requested a disinterment of the body, in order to relieve himself from all suspicion and to satisfy the public in regard to the death of the unfortunate Mike Rodgers.

WIDE-AWAKE.

It is reported by persons returning from court, at Liberty in Casey county, that a desperate affray occurred in that place on Monday last. The prominent actors in the affray were James Fair and Leroy Napier—both young men; but the firing was for a time so general as to amount to a fusillade. Fair was hit slightly in the neck—Napier received two or three shots, one of which proved fatal some immediately. It is rumored that some others were hurt. The tragedy is traced back to an old family feud, aggravated by frequent collisions. Fair was immediately arrested, and committed to jail.

LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS.

By Our Special Correspondents.

HUSTONVILLE.

We are compelled to confess, however reluctantly, that we are spectators for this week—beaten with our own club—blown up by our torpedo—blasted by our own speculation.

Some may remember that a short time since in the plenitude of our sympathy, we penned a requiem on the occasion of the death of Blain's dog. Like all who essay to give consolation in time of deep affliction, we felt anxious to know how our kindly attempt had succeeded; and like young poets, we felt solicitous about the young fledgling we had sent forth on an untried pinion.

Imagine, then, our intense gratification—our lofty elation—our ecstatic rapture, on receiving, by mail, the appreciative response which we venture to append to this.

It was not intended for publication, but we deem it too good to be lost.

For your eloquent, timely, and most just tribute to the memory of my dear, deceased and forever-loved little "dog," and for the relief to my sorrow-stricken heart, and "fore-up" feelings afforded by that howl so blank-verse and to be, and yet so expressive of the emotions of a used-up soul, I owe you several thousand thanks—and I'm ready to settle.

Bull, my dear sir, was no common dog. Though diminutive in stature, insignificant in size, you may say he had the port and bearing of the lordly lion. Low as he was he held himself up. He was bold, without impudence—brave without bullying. His every movement and attitude was exquisitely graceful, and wholly unaffected. A "dog" having much to be proud of, yet he was unassuming. There was none of the sneak in his behavior or manner. His head he carried erect, his tail he carried dist, except a gentle, graceful curve.

Yes, sir, of him I have the proud satisfaction to say that he often trampled upon the toes of those whom the Great Dogmaker had endowed with life, fit only for trampling little "pups" to death for nothing, the daily and hourly and minutely and secondly soiled at and derided to his face by the proud and scornful, "dog" who had been made by that no little "dog" like him and to his last illness it was his lot to endure bodily and perhaps spiritual anguish, the intensity of which is a secret, but I dare say any man who has ever loved his dog, no, sir! he went out of the world as he had lived in it, without a bad word on him.

My dear sir, I have intimated that I owed you a debt of gratitude for the verified lamentation which you so kindly furnished for that sad occasion. This is indeed no joke. Surely I was the worse grief-stricken mortal on the earth or under it. Literally stuffed and distended with sorrow, not only "too full for utterance," but too full to be fooled with, for that little doggy had, and for any dog could get, a wall that would do justice to the occasion—had no cry to it—and just as I was about to go to cry it out—I was relaxed by your appropriate lines, I at once began to repeat with a suitable whine, and the swelling has nearly all gone out of me already.

Again I thank you sir, and pronounce you the greatest Alleviator of the age, and a poet. Yours thoughtfully,

BLAIN.

CRAB ORCHARD.

No news heretofore this week. The town wears its usual sleepy appearance, business dull, but strong hopes that matters will get better as Spring approaches.

Mr. Hiram Roberts, who went to Texas in a hurry, is coming back again as great a hurry. He thinks, very justly, that six feet of Kentucky blue grass is worth the rest of the place. While we wait him back, we will regret the loss of Dr. G. W. Bromagh, who we presume has now gotten fairly settled in your town. Our loss is your gain. You will find him a most estimable gentleman, a public spirited citizen, and an accomplished and experienced physician. He has practiced his profession successfully for the past thirty years, and stands deservedly high in his ranks. We wish him most abundant success in his new field of action.

BOULDER.

FROM BOYLE COUNTY.

SHELBY CITY, Ky., Jan. 28, 1874.

There is some excitement in regard to the Grangers with their Granges. We never knew much, but in days of yore we were a Know-Nothing, for a spell, and that organization lost itself, because it was antagonistic to true republicanism. This newly patented "Ring" may be a good institution as against other "rings," but the merchant, the artisan in every branch of mechanics, together with the professional man, "can't see in that light."

When these Grangers received 7 cents for a ticket and 6 and 8 cents for hops, they grumbled very much, and in their dire calamity, vowed they could not stand it. Presto, change! Hops for the Fall of '73 sold at 3 to 4 cents, cattle proportionately low; yet they sold—paid their taxes—lived well on their own farms, and National banks are flourishing, and declaring good dividends, notwithstanding the crisis.

A family by the name of Brown, consisting of mother and daughter, (the latter having a young babe), last week, during the intense cold with snow and sleet, were traveling through the knobs, in the direction of Sand Knob, six miles distant from here. They became benumbed, and took refuge under a tree, after the night had spread its dark pall over the surface of the earth. Mrs. Brown was severely frost-bitten, her daughter was seriously injured, being frozen from her knees down. Her babe was saved. Mr. Otter, in the immediate vicinity, went to their relief. They are now at his house in a condition that would excite commiseration from any one. They had recently left the Shakers, and doubtless regret the move, as the Shakers are notoriously provident and kind.

Real estate here is "looking up," and our merchants are in hopes of lively times soon on account of railroad excitement.

Visitors are yet thronging us. Some with a view to speculation, others as railroad men who always keep their own secrets.

We hope the enterprising Commercial Hotel, of your place, will succeed, but our card beats you, and you know it; but the Commercial deserves all she wants, if she only keeps up the coffee.

FATAL AFFRAY IN LIBERTY.

It is reported by persons returning from court, at Liberty in Casey county, that a desperate affray occurred in that place on Monday last. The prominent actors in the affray were James Fair and Leroy Napier—both young men; but the firing was for a time so general as to amount to a fusillade. Fair was hit slightly in the neck—Napier received two or three shots, one of which proved fatal some immediately. It is rumored that some others were hurt. The tragedy is traced back to an old family feud, aggravated by frequent collisions. Fair was immediately arrested, and committed to jail.
